

FRONTIERS

April
1995

Have you ever pondered our emblem? When I was new I saw the circle with a triangle within. It had three words: Recovery, Unity, Service. My mind said it was cute, beyond that, it really meant very little to me. As time goes on, I look at it and ask what it means to me. It has grown to take on all kinds of meaning.

Let's start with that triangle, it's equal in sides. One side sits flat, it can't fall, it's the foundation. That's Recovery, the twelve steps. If worked, continued and maintained one can't falter.

The next side is Unity, the Fellowship. It's also one third of the triangle. It is important we can't do it alone. (I like to forget this at times.) This is a "we" program, and we have to stick together. Sometimes I look around at meetings and ask myself, personalities aside, if any one of you were in trouble could you rely on me? Could I count on you? It's important for me to look at my own unity in AA. Am I joined, or do I stand aside watching unity. For me coming to AA doesn't join me. There's more action involved. I have to talk and listen. Both are necessary for me.

Last, but not least, is another third of that triangle, just as important as the other two, Service. Being of use to God, my fellows and AA. There is action in Recovery, action in Unity, action is especially required in Service. Anything I can do is to benefit AA, and my fellows. This is a large range of activities from ashtrays, to conventions. Doing what I'm asked, and also doing when I'm not asked. (I can find myself saying "Let the other guy do it.") I have to take action! service gives me a sense of purpose, filling that hole in me that wants to feel needed. Where service is concerned, I'm always needed. The real question is will I participate, or leave it for the other guy?

Surrounding this triangle is the life. I look at this as the fullness of life being surrounded by God's token love.

The circle and triangle are no longer just cute, it's a key to a fullness of life beyond my imagination. It makes me complete and whole.

Action-Results-Action-Results

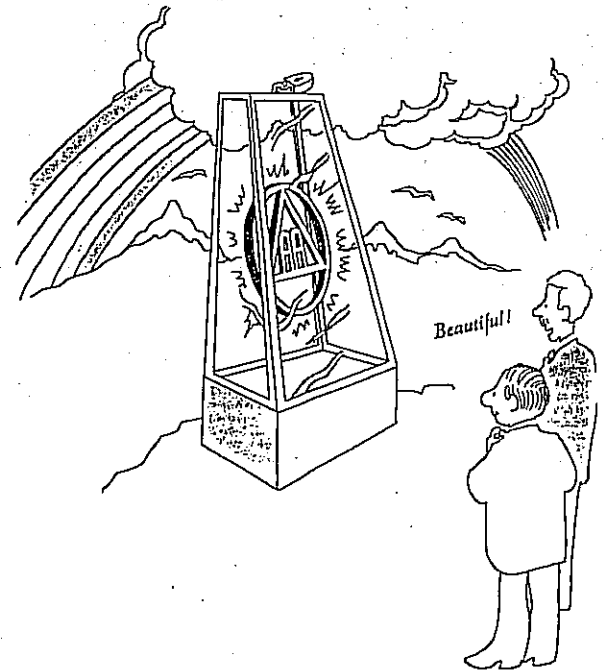

This year I'm serving as Hospitality Chair for the Buffalo Fall Convention. In pondering the circle and triangle, we wanted to incorporate it in action in this convention. We are asking groups to please take time slots to be of service this year. Depending on how many members are willing from your group to participate, it could range from hospitality rooms, to greeters, to literature, etc. Many I have talked to just don't do things together as a group anymore. We talk, but rarely does it blossom into action. Here's a chance for unity and service with plenty of time left for the recovery in the panels and speakers. Fullness of the circle.

This is our convention. Let's all ponder the circle and triangle. Ask yourself what it means to you.

If your group is interested in a time slot, please have your group GSR representative, or contact person get in touch with me, Terry B., 549-7068.

We can all be part of this convention, full and whole with a new excitement. We can participate, not just by observing, it ours! Let's work together in the Fellowship of the Spirit and make this a convention we will soon not forget.

Spiritual Awakening

My Serenity

Many mornings at 10 am I sit among some folks,
To listen to their problems and some meaningful quotes.
Some talk about the weather, religion, or why they came,
While others simply listen and only give their name

I was amazed to realise "so many just like me,"
Have encountered similar problems, some I'd never see.
I see a lot of hurting, discomfort and pain,
And some have positive attitudes though the sunshine never came.

When I first stopped drinking, I would start a brand new day,
Yet I wouldn't ask for blessings, or live the AA way.
I could handle anything, I was rough and tough and strong,
I didn't need close ties or God, just me farewell, so long...

Once upon a time, I thought that this was all so true,
I never knew that AA folks were just like me and you.
I'd get up, get dressed and off to work I'd go.
And not associate with anyone, another day was blown.

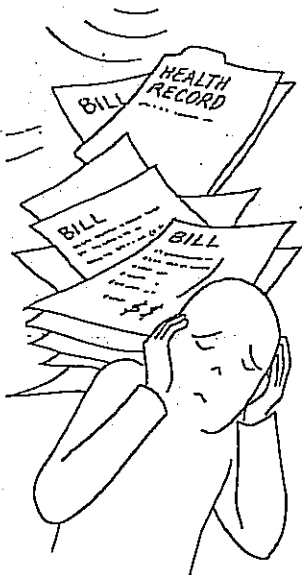

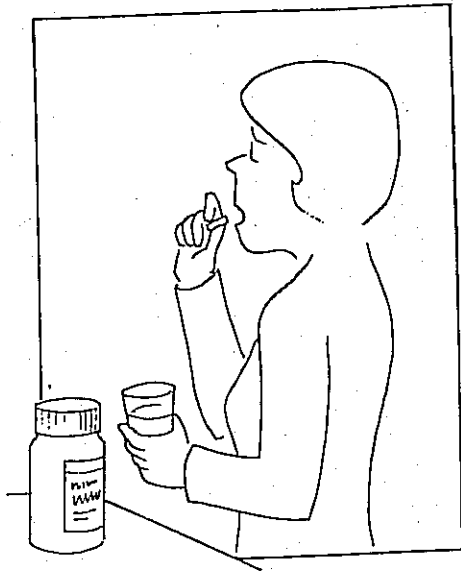

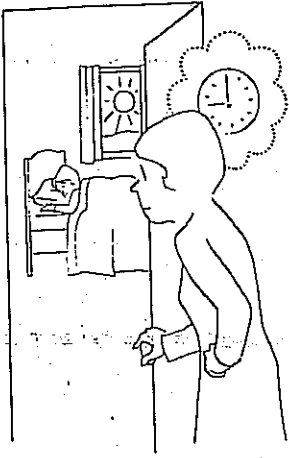

Everyday there's someone new to change your life around.
And yet when times are toughest, we prefer no smile,
just a frown.
I never could quite understand why things have to be this way,
So as I got more confused, I knelt down to pray.

To this man in heaven, I gave all my broken dreams
And in return He left me with happiness extreme.
I can't predict my future, it's one day at a time,
But I've learned to be quite content with no more than just a dime.

I don't have a husband, a house, or all that gold,
I have myself, my daughter Val, and shoes so very old.
I don't have much money, or drive a Cadillac,
But I have myself, AA and God. I'm never turning back.

I have hit rock bottom, and been so very low.
There were some points in my life where I didn't know where to go.
I picked up the phone and dialed Crises Services,
You see,
Each and every time I called I cried "Boo Hoo, Poor
Me."

At the time I was very depressed, a lonely girl whose life was a mess.
I walked around in bummy old clothes and didn't care if I slept or arose.
I hated my life. It sucked. It was bad.
I was divorced, unemployed and extremely mad.

Eventnough...

I left a situation where I knew thing wouldn't change,
I admitted to myself, now it's time to rearrange.
I took out a notebook, and I began to say,
All the things that bothered me, things that weren't OK had a happy childhood, and my father picked on me,

I was abused at seventeen by someone twenty-three.
I had gotten pregnant, I was so very scared.
I could never tell my mother, in spite of everything we shared.

I took care of it in my own way and paid a great big price.
Years later I saw counselors, who gave me some advice.
Most of them just listened, others seemed to care,
But most of them were busy watching dust fly through thin air.

They didn't pay attention, "Nobody cares," I said.
I'd go home and be depressed and wish I were dead.
I would wake up at all hours and the cycle would begin, I'd tell myself, in negative ways, "I have no chance to win."

My life at twenty-eight was the worst it ever had been.
I was separated, a new mother, and a patient at Bry-Lin.

I went through all these groups and made my first amends.
And with six months of therapy, my depression did end.

Then there were the other times I just wanted to die.
Many, many, many times I would sit and cry.
Four more hospitalizations, and doctors by the score.
Lots of anti-depressants, but I'd fall on my face no more.

It took alot of self control, and the desire to succeed,
But weekly counseling and AA are something I still need.

I have alot of people to say my thank-yous to Afterall it's worth it folks to be one like you.

Oftentimes I'm terrified and don't know where to turn,
But experience is the best teacher, I have come to learn.
I may not have the answers, I'm still quite young you see,
But everyday I smile because "I'm proud to be me."

Life for me is difficult, even to this day,
But I just keep on coming back to AA everyday.
So if you ever had some doubts and don't know where to go,
Just look inside the Big Book, your story's there you know.

God can do alot for us, if we let things be.
I know this for a fact, my friend, He took good care of me.

Friends, this is my story, and in serenity I say,
I'm grateful that I'm sober, for God and AA.

New Frontiers:

In April, 1941, four men contacted Dr. Bob S., (Co-Founder of Alcoholics Anonymous) because they wanted to quit drinking for good. Dr. Bob asked Arnie C., from Cleveland, Ohio to come to Buffalo and give them what he was freely given in the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous, and the guidance through it. That was Fifty-four years ago. this way, it would be here when I was ready to turn my life over to the care of God as I understand Him. I remember when I came in everyone was talking about the World Convention in Montreal marking the 50th anniversary of AA, but noone said anything about Founders' Day in Akron, Ohio. One could go through Dr. Bob's home set at the kitchen table, and have coffee like Bill and Bob did, and meet some people that helped AA grow.

Next year, Buffalo celebrates fifty-five years of AA. What are members willing to do for that anniversary, since most groups devote a good portion of their meetings to honor individual members' anniversaries?

Sincerely yours,
Paul R., Sr.

Carrying the Message

Many think the Correctional Facility and Treatment Facility Committees take money to buy crap. Yes, in the old days they did that. But, today we take old Grapevines and books to the Treatment Centers and Prisons donated by WNY AA members and homegroups. We take material printed in Spanish so those who can't speak English get the AA message. I remember one group use to show their gratitude for being sober by contributing AA material to those in need.

You can send your old Grapevines by your GSR representative to Central Office, or by dropping them off the first Sunday each month at the Central Committee meeting. My friend, Capt. Jack of Loner's Internationalists, use to take books and literature to parts all around the world to carry the message to the suffering alcoholics. So there is no limit to where the AA message can be distributed.

My homegroup use to give 12 & 12s, old Grapevines, and Big Books to the Beacon Group at Attica for their prep class on AA. The prisoners can take old Grapevines to their cells so they can have an AA meeting in print for themselves. That's a meaning way your homegroup can observe AA's Primary Purpose: to stay sober by helping someone achieve sobriety. In my case, I do it primarily for for myself. I know it's the best and only way I can stay sober today. Try it, it works.

We are self-supporting through our own contributions. Have your homegroup send money to the Correctional and Treatment funds. Remember, we are responsible. We must give it away in order to keep it. Your group can send money to the envelope system to help keep the doors of AA open, and the phone to be answered.

Get involved it will strengthen your sobriety. At least give it a chance to work. I'm grateful that my homegroup lets me do what I can at my age and with my physical defects.

In life we take many journeys, some can be easy, others are hard. The hardest journey I feel is sobriety. The easiest part of this journey was putting ther drink down. Some of the harder parts of this journey are easy for some. But, for the rest of us, it can be very nerve racking.

Admitting powerlessness and being alcoholic was easy. Giving my will over to a Higher Power wasn't hard either. But admitting to my God, and praying to Him, now that's a different story. I'm trying to follow the steps as best I can right now. But, the best advice I can think of is trying to live one day at a time. Sometimes, it's one minute at a time. But time is the key. I've got to give it time. What I'm seeing for myself is that it' does work in time, and also in patience. You also need a true willingness to stop drinking. And getting a sponsor, getting into a homegroup, and start performing service, no matter how small, or insignificant that service may be. Service can help me now just as much as the other person.

I'm writing this for "New Frontiers" because I might not share my thoughts freely in meetings, and this is a way of getting involved. I hope that other young newcomers, like myself, will get more involved with the "New Frontiers." I hope to see many responses from AA members young and old, but hopefully, from some younger members.

T.A.K.

Powerless Group

Call a shut-in today to let them know they are not alone anymore. A word to another might help a suffering alcoholic stay sober. Go to a treatment or Correctional Committee meeting so your group knows what is going on.

Many new members see the reserve fund and they say you don't need more money. That's a popular misconception that must be dispelled. Treatment and Corrections need you donation now more than ever before. The InterGroup is dedicated to preserving our traditions. Get active it might help you live one day at a time.

I'm grateful the doors of AA were open, and the phone was answered when I needed help with this disease of alcoholism.
