

NEW FRONTIERS

May 2002

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE NEWSLETTER FOR ALL A.A. MEMBERS OF WESTERN NEW YORK AND THE NIAGARA FRONTIER
We request that this newsletter be kept within the Fellowship to insure anonymity.

From the Doctor's Opinion, Alcoholics Anonymous, pg xxvi, Dr. Silkworth writes:

"We believe and so suggested a few years ago, that the action of alcohol on these chronic alcoholics is a manifestation of an allergy; that the phenomenon of craving is limited to this class and never occurs in the average temperate drinker. These allergic types can never safely use alcohol in any form at all; and once having found they cannot break it, once having lost their self-confidence, their reliance upon things human, their problems pile up on them and become astonishingly difficult to solve. Frothy emotional appeal seldom suffices. The message, which can interest and hold these alcoholic people must have depth and weight. In nearly all cases, their ideals must be grounded in a power greater than themselves, if they are to re-create their lives."

Please deliver us from the so-called pseudo-intellectuals and biochemists who would have us believe that bad metabolism, ethnic origins or our evil past was the cause of our alcoholism. I learned that I was allergic to alcohol. A simple no-nonsense approach to the resolution of my problem was to stay away from the source of that allergy. I fashioned many elaborate disguises for my disease. It was no act of heroism that brought me to AA, but rather a simple plea for help from the maddening disease of alcoholism. I sought a power greater than myself.

Before I arrived at the doors of AA, I believed in nothing but my own thoughts. At one meeting an old-timer asked me a question... "When your back was against the wall and you had nowhere to go for help, did you ever say, 'God help me, I'll never do this again!'" That was the moment of truth; I said that many times! I now had to face the fact that I did believe in a power greater than myself, I finally arrived.

The road to spirituality was open now. I had something to believe in. A simple prayer in the morning starts my day: "Teach me today, to better do your will...not mine." And in the evening a simple thank you is all that is needed. The 'Big Book' on page 85 tells us; what we have is a daily reprieve contingent on the maintenance of our spiritual condition. Every day is a day when we must carry the vision of God's will into all of our activities. 'How best can I serve Thee? – Thy will (not mine) be done.' The spiritual life is not a theory. We have to live it.

God brought me to AA, and AA in turn showed me a way to believe in Him. Regular attendance at meetings is a must for me, but meetings alone cannot keep me sober, I need daily guidance from a power greater than myself. Service work is important, not only does it keep me sober, but it also sends a message to the newcomer, to keep it we must give it away, or at least try.

John H. – Sunday Morning Breakfast Group

Step Six: Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

Dear God, I am ready for your help in removing the defects of character which I now realize are an obstacle to my recovery. Help me to continue being honest with myself and guide me toward spiritual and mental health.

Blasdell Monday Nite Group

"Are you asking yourself, as all of us must: 'Who am I?' ... 'Where am I?' ... 'Whence do I go?' The process of enlightenment is usually slow. But, in the end, our seeking always brings a finding. These great mysteries are, after all, enshrined in complete simplicity. The willingness to grow is the essence of all spiritual development."

Letter 1955

The immediate object of our quest is sobriety - freedom from alcohol and from all its baleful consequences. Without the freedom, we have nothing at all.

Paradoxically, though, we can achieve no liberation from the alcohol obsession until we become willing to deal with those character defects which have landed us in that helpless condition. In this freedom quest, we are always given three choices.

A rebellious refusal to work upon our glaring defects can be an almost certain ticket to destruction. Or, perhaps for a time, we can stay sober with a minimum of self-improvement and settle ourselves into a comfortable but often dangerous mediocrity. Or, finally, we can continuously try hard for those sterling qualities that can add up to fitness of spirit and action - true and lasting freedom under God.

Bill W. - Grapevine 1960

Since most of us are born with an abundance of natural desires, it isn't strange that we often let these far exceed their intended purpose. When they drive us blindly, or we willfully demand that they supply us with more satisfactions or pleasures than are possible or due us, that is the point at which we depart from the degree of perfection that God wishes for us here on earth. That is the measure of our character defects, or, if you wish, our sins.

If we ask, God will certainly forgive us our derelictions. But in no case does He render us white as snow and keep us that way without our cooperation. That is something we are supposed to be willing to work toward ourselves. He asks only that we try as best we know how to make progress in the building of character.

So Step Six is AA's way of stating the best possible attitude one can take in order to make a beginning on this lifetime job. This does not mean that we expect all our character defects to be lifted out of us as the drive to drink was. A few of them may be, but with most of them we shall have to be content with patient improvement. The key words "entirely ready" underline the fact that we want to aim at the very best we know or can learn.

12 & 12 p 65

Tradition Five: "Each group has but one primary purpose - to carry its message to the alcoholic who still suffers."

Better to do one thing well than many badly. The life of our Fellowship depends on this principle. The ability of each AA to identify himself with and bring recovery to the newcomer is a gift from God ... passing on this gift to others is our one aim. Sobriety can't be kept unless it is given away.

.... Firmly bound by obligation are the members of Alcoholics Anonymous, who have demonstrated that they can help problem drinkers as others seldom can. The unique ability of each AA to identify himself with, and bring recovery to the newcomer in no way depends upon his learning, eloquence, or any special individual skills. The only thing that matters is that he is an alcoholic who has found a key to sobriety. These legacies of suffering and of recovery are easily passed among alcoholics, one to the other. This is our gift from God, and its bestowal upon others like us is the one aim that today animates AA's all around the globe.

It is the great paradox of AA that we know we can seldom keep the precious gift of sobriety unless we give it away. For us, if we neglect those who are still sick, there is unremitting danger to our own lives and sanity. Under these compulsions of self-preservation, duty, and love, it is not strange that our Society has concluded that it has but one high mission - to carry the AA message to those who don't know there's a way out.

12 & 12 p.150-151

Heard at a meeting:

- Recovery doesn't come to me; I have to go get it.
- Our hearts have only one door and the handle is on the inside. Only we can open it.
- Say a prayer, go to a meeting, you will be contacted.

Each day is God's gift to us; we can reject it or we can thank Him by showing how much we appreciate it. I am never promised a tomorrow; all any of us have is today. Everyday I try to repay in some way all that has been given so freely to me. A smile or a touch is often all that's needed to brighten someone's day.

We in Alcoholic's Anonymous, have the power and the choice to live each day to its fullest - simply by learning to live one day at a time.

Twisted Fate

Life can seem quite twisted, unfair, and even unbearable. This I know as well as anybody. You see I am suffering from the worst pain known to man. No, it is not a migraine headache – I suffered through those as a child. I would gladly exchange what ails me now for that incredibly strong lightning bolt racing through my head. True, I could not move a muscle for fear of horrendous pain, and vomiting, yet, this to is no match for the pain I suffer now.

Maybe a broken back? No, sorry, I did that six months ago. Although it was by no means fun – it hurt quite a bit actually, still does. I would gladly break it again, my back, my arms, and my legs if only it would stop this unbearable suffering.

What is this incredible pain, you ask? What could possibly hurt me so much?

Well I will tell you, it can only be heartache!

Yes emotional pain, losing someone you love more than you love yourself, more than life itself. A pain that hurts so bad it brings you to the brink of suicide. It hurts so bad emotionally that you break out in tears at anytime (like I am now) for no apparent reason. It hurts you physically in that you can't eat, can't sleep and the pain in your stomach gets so tight you think you will fall over. It is in the headaches, and dizzy spells. Heartache also hurts you emotionally in that misery engulfs you like a black cloud, leaving you nowhere to turn.

Mentally I think it hurts you the worst, with the thoughts of suicide, and dark, morbid painful, negative, and scrambled thinking.

So what do you do? Where do you turn? I believe the one area of self that is not hurt by heartache is spirit. What you do is turn to God.

I am not a preacher, just a man with a broken heart. I am not talking about religion; religion is only a guide, not the vacation spot or the paradise I am speaking of. I am talking about spirituality. I am talking about my broken heart! That is the only place you will ever come to truly find God (in your own heart) and all by yourself. Religion can lead you to the water of everlasting life, to the gateway of peace, and joy; however, it is you who ultimately must walk through. The doorway to truth is through your own heart that is where you find love, truth, and God.

Unfortunately for me believing this to be so doesn't take my pain away. I believe that a broken heart will heal stronger than it was, just like broken bone, and just like bone only time can heal it. So I wrap my heart in a cast of prayer, and meditation, then wait. I embrace the pain as a gift. If we must divide, if there must be a backside to every coin; then that means if I can hurt this bad, suffer this much, then I must also have the potential to love, to feel joy, and happiness at least equal to this pain I feel now. That is a glorious thing.

In closing consider this: The strongest sword, the hardest steel, is forged in the hottest flame. Remember that, and remember this – you are not alone. We are all God's children, and we all go through the forge of pain, and suffering. One way or another, it only makes us stronger.

Purity

Until we translate our knowledge into action of our own lives, the value of it is non-existent. We are not intelligent under such circumstances. So it is with the decency of our lives. We know what is right, but unless we do it, the knowledge is a haunting vacuum.

Inscription from plaque on Dr. Bob's desk, which to him best described

HUMILITY

"Perpetual quietness of heart. It is to have no trouble. It is never to be fretted or vexed, irritable or sore; to wonder at nothing that is done to me, to feel nothing done against me.

"It is to be at rest when nobody praises me, and when I am blamed or despised, it is to have a blessed home in myself where I can go in and shut the door and pray to my Father in secret and be at peace, as in a deep sea of calmness, when all around and about is seeming trouble."

Take care of today - that's the idea. Now each day's a new victory. There's just a lot more reasons to live now. I've stopped running from myself. I've replaced the fear with trust. - SRV

Heard at a meeting:

- God answers all our prayers. Sometimes the answer is "No!" or "Not now."
- "When do you do the 12 Steps?" – "Hopefully before you pick up your next drink."
- Keep going to meetings. If you don't get it – it will get you

Stumbling blocks in our path are just stepping stones in disguise.

Recovery

I am an alcoholic. I have abused, excessively, almost every mood altering substance on this planet yet I am an alcoholic. I have myriad defects of character and mental aberrations, and yet I am an alcoholic. The miraculous process of recovery has allowed me to do, just for today, the most unnatural thing. Not to drink!

For today only I have the willingness to change my way of thinking. This occurs through the principles of Alcoholics Anonymous. The twelve suggested steps teach me, as I pass through them, how to make amends for my past and how to live and enjoy life that IS happy, joyous, peaceful, serene, and free. This road is not easy or un-rocky but certainly is much softer than my old path.

If I continue on this path, remain willing, follow the suggestions that I am given and do not sell myself short by having expectations about my journey, then, beyond my wildest dreams this miracle of recovery WILL CONTINUE.

Yours in joyful sobriety

NOW

Now that I am out of the fog
Reality gave me a slap in the face.
I spent so much time self-absorbed
And blind to all the things that took place.

Now that I am out of the fog
I see the things I never took time to notice.
Looking back, the memories are painful.
I spent too much time feeding from the lotus.

Now that the sky is clear
The painful memories I am left to face.
People I have hurt, left to clean up my dirt.
This disease really put me in my place.

Now that I see this disease for what it is
And the turmoil it made me cause,
I see how I felt like a king for it.
Like I deserved some sort of applause.

Now that I can stand up and think for myself
I have a chance at winning the war.
There's a lot of things I've lost and pain I've caused
At least now I don't have to cause anymore.

Matthew L. - Lovejoy Group

What is AA?

AA is a Spirit. It cannot be touched; nor can it be completely understood. It is as wide as the world, yet small enough to fit snugly inside the hearts of women and men. It has brought light where only darkness dwelt. It has given hope to the hopeless and help to those who yearned in despair. It has nourished forgiveness in those who knew no pity. It has given strength to the weak and humility to the strong. It has spurred to higher goals those who strove for nothing. It has taught patience to the hurried and action to the lazy. To youth it has given vision and to the aged promise. To the lonely, companions, and to the restless, rest. To the sick it has been a doctor, and to the dying it has revived the desire to live. It has no judgment against the un-teachable, nor has it praise for those who learn. To the outcast it has been a family, and to the childless, it has given children, to the ignorant, wisdom, and to the wise, tolerance. It has given all men and women that which is precious. It has given a love for truth with enough left over to share.

CENTRAL OFFICE: "JUNE OFFICE REPORT: AA INFO:344; ALANON: 29; 12 STEP:5; PIC/CPC: 0; VISITORS: 69; VOLUNTEERS: 1; Volunteers are very obviously needed.

I finished the map of the districts; there were a few groups in the wrong district, which is being corrected in the database, the district sign in sheets, and the mailing labels.

The new schedules are in; I apologize for all the errors. Being the first schedule put back in the computer, all the kinks can be worked out and hopefully we'll never have to start from scratch again.

What was left of the old schedules was distributed between treatment centers and corrections, along with a list of what has changed since it's printing.

Our corporate taxes are not yet completed. The Convention Account was missing some bank statements, which are holding the accountants up. Replacements have been ordered from the bank at a fee. A reminder to this year's committee to keep track of every statement. A tax extension was filed.

In the meanwhile the accountant gave us his year-end number in December. We placed it in the January start up numbers for the year; this brought our totals much closer to the checkbook. The accountant when he's done with our taxes is also going to supply me with a disk of the financial statement, much like our current statement, along with a monthly Reconciling the Bank Account Disk. This should solve our financial statement problems (sic). As of yesterday the office was painted, all are invited down to take a look.

Yours in the fellowship of the Spirit, Terry Bateman

CENTRAL OFFICE: "JUNE OFFICE REPORT: AA INFO:344; ALANON: 29; 12 STEP:5; PIC/CPC: 0; VISITORS: 69; VOLUNTEERS: 1; Volunteers are very obviously needed.

I finished the map of the districts; there were a few groups in the wrong district, which is being corrected in the database, the district sign in sheets, and the mailing labels.

The new schedules are in; I apologize for all the errors. Being the first schedule put back in the computer, all the kinks can be worked out and hopefully we'll never have to start from scratch again.

What was left of the old schedules was distributed between treatment centers and corrections, along with a list of what has changed since it's printing.
